How does this square with the rest of the proposed trips through the end of the year and our current budget. I would support generally but it depends on what this is competing with.

This morning I received a TA via GovTrip for Everett Bishop to travel to the National Asbestos Meeting in Denver. I asked Everett for the agenda. Looks like pipe bursting is on the agenda, as is recycling of asphalt roofing shingles into road paving material. The latter was similar to pipe bursting where OECA and the program office (OSWER/ORCR) had different perspectives.

Based on the conversation yesterday with Lisa, do we want to try to get pipe bursting off the agenda? Do we want to revisit whether we need to send someone to this meeting?

Rick -

This is the current agenda. I spoke with Doug yesterday and suggested a change in the pipe bursting discussion from AHERA to NESHAP.

The National Asbestos Meeting (NAM) is a few weeks away. The Steering Committee has worked hard on the agenda, revising it to include additional topics.

HHS Secretary Kathleen Sebelius is confirmed for the National Healthy Housing Conference, as is HUD Deputy Secretary Ron Sims. People attending the NAM will get to hear them speak at the Healthy Housing Conference on Thursday.

On Thursday afternoon, the NAM agenda includes a talk on asbestos enforcement. Insight into the Congressional Ban on asbestos is scheduled for Friday.

NCSL has created a hard copy registration form, which may be faxed to NCSL by June 15. Or you can register on-line at <http://www.ncsl.org/default.aspx?tabid=13229> (NCSL requires people to register to logon to their meeting registration system).

Registration is $100, which will cover costs for breakfast, coffee breaks and AV costs. Hotels can be booked through the NHHHC room block. Simply state that you will be attending the NHHHC on Thursday. Other hotels are available in the Downtown Denver area that also may offer the government rate.
